ABOUT NCLGA

Established in 1955, the North Central Local Government Association (NCLGA) is a non-profit, non-partisan association of elected officials representing local governments in north central BC. Its jurisdiction covers 70% of BC's landmass.

The NCLGA advocates for solutions to shared issues in member communities and also help to articulate member perspectives and priorities to a broader audience.

NCLGA operates according to the following four core values:

- Well-being – environmental, social, and economic
- Non-partisan – exploring the risks, benefits, and alternatives that lead to the best outcome or solution
- Regional focus – collaborating on shared commitments for achieving positive impacts
- Transparency – building trust and increasing access to information.

NCLGA Welcome

What a pleasure is it to welcome you all to the 2026 NCLGA AGM and Convention. On behalf of the NCLGA Board of Directors and the conference Planning Committee, I invite you to participate fully in the business sessions and social hours. This event is a time to learn together through sharing stories, challenges, and solutions.

Since we last gathered in Prince Rupert, much has changed in the world, increasing uncertainty for all of us and our residents. With that backdrop, the conference Planning Committee has worked hard to create a meaningful program for you. Our conference theme: “Walking Together: Honouring Relationships, Leading Change,” speaks to me about the strength of leadership that we all need now. Walking alongside one another creates trust and makes us stronger. Honouring old and new relationships builds community. Leading change is simply what we must do.

It has been my pleasure to serve as NCLGA President for the last year and I look forward to connecting with you over the next few days.

Again, welcome to AGM 2026, on the territory of the Lheidli T'enneh, in our beautiful host City of Prince George, in the midst of the Regional District of Fraser-Fort George.

Wishing you a great convention,

Gladys Atrill

President, NCLGA

Co-Hosts Welcomes

On behalf of the Lheidli T'enneh First Nation, our elders, youth, and Council members, I am honoured to welcome delegates, leaders, partners, and guests to the NCLGA AGM and Annual Conference here on our traditional, unceded, and ancestral lands.

This year's theme, “Walking Together: Honouring Relationships, Leading Change,” reflects the importance of partnership, respect, and shared purpose in building strong and resilient communities across Northern British Columbia. As local governments, Indigenous Nations, organizations, and community leaders gather, we are reminded that meaningful progress is achieved when we listen to one another, learn from one another, and move forward together in a spirit of collaboration.

We recognize the work being done throughout our region with the Regional District of Fraser-Fort George and the City of Prince George is a benchmark for strengthening community, advancing reconciliation, and creating opportunities for future generations. We are inspired daily by this work.

These next few days together present the opportunity to continue learning from one another, while exploring our shared commitments to a productive and prosperous future.

Dolleen Logan

Chief, Lheidli T'enneh First Nation

The Regional District of Fraser-Fort George is pleased to welcome you to the 2026 North Central Local Government Association Annual General Meeting and Convention as a co-host with the City of Prince George and the Lheidli T'enneh First Nation. The regional boundaries include seven electoral areas, the communities of Mackenzie, McBride, Valemount, and Prince George and the traditional territories of several Indigenous Nations.

This year's theme is “Walking Together: Honouring Relationships, Leading Change,” and as co-hosts we are proud to embody these principles. Bringing together elected officials from across north central BC extends this theme and presents a unique opportunity to collaborate on the issues that we share. When we honour each other and walk together, we will go farther in leading the change we want to see.

There are some great tours and events throughout the Annual General Meeting and Convention that showcase the collaboration and innovation in the region and provide opportunities to catch up with friends and colleagues. We trust that you will experience and enjoy as much as you can over these few days.

Lara Beckett

Chair, Regional District of Fraser-Fort George

On behalf of the City of Prince George, it is a pleasure to welcome all the delegates to the 2026 North Central Local Government (NCLGA) Convention and AGM. We are delighted to cohost this event with the Lheidli T'enneh Nation and the Regional District of Fraser-Fort George to emphasize this year's theme: “Walking Together: Honouring Relationships, Leading Change.”

Your presence reflects the commitment NCLGA members bring to addressing complex regional challenges and advancing practical, locally driven solutions for the north.

We hope the time spent together is productive and engaging and further bonds the spirit of collaboration across the north central local governments to form a stronger voice in British Columbia.

TIME	EVENT
8:00 AM – 4:30 PM	Registration Opens for NCLGA AGM and Convention Trade Show set up
9:00 AM – 12:00 PM	Northern Health Forum, hosted by Northern Health
12:30 PM – 4:30 PM	Tours Public Safety Operations Building/Emergency Support Services and Public Safety Infrastructure A tour of the Public Safety Operations Building (PSOB) currently housing the Emergency Operations Center, the Fraser-Fort George Regional Fire Dispatch Service and Communications Infrastructure Room, and future location of the Fraser-Fort George 9-1-1 Call-Answer Service. Public Safety staff will discuss the nuances of operations and services provided in each area. Participants can then expect to experience a staged evacuation registration process at the Prince George ESS Reception Centre. The tour will showcase the Reception Centre and the Incident Command Centre where staff will explain what municipalities are responsible for during an emergency under the Provincial Emergency and Disaster Management Act. Prince George staff will also highlight how they support surrounding communities in times of emergency. Ancient Forest Interpretive Centre Delegates will visit the newly completed Ancient Forest Interpretive Centre and experience a guided walk along the iconic Ancient Forest boardwalk. The tour includes a walkthrough of the approximately 4,500 sq. ft. Interpretive Centre, highlighting its programming spaces, design intent, and cultural and educational features. Participants will then explore the universally accessible boardwalk trail, walking through an old-growth cedar forest. The experience offers a unique opportunity to learn about Indigenous-led tourism, conservation, and infrastructure development in a nationally significant ecosystem. Prince George Energy Leadership Tour This tour will highlight public and private facilities in Prince George that are unique Canadian energy leadership initiatives. From government infrastructure incorporating advanced energy-efficiency systems to private industrial operations showcasing renewable energy technologies, the tour illustrates how Prince George is positioning itself as a national leader in practical, community-driven climate action. These facilities showcase Prince George's efforts in reducing emissions, improving resilience, and building a model for energy stewardship that other communities can learn from.

Research on unhoused populations, opioid and addictions crisis, and community wide catastrophes point to a common denominator of lack of mental health support and interventions for child and youth mental health. Studies indicate early intervention leads to better long- and short-term prognosis for those with adverse childhood experiences. Those left without intervention often fall within the cracks of society and are left in cycles of incarceration, addictions, hospitalizations and crisis. Involving early childhood mental health interventions in political conversations is vital to the overall health of our population and is meeting the problems of our society at the source. Speakers: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Jenny Plouffe, Therapist/Clinical Supervisor, Intersect Youth and Family Services• Rebecca Pozer, Clinical Supervisor, Intersect Youth and Family Services

4:05 PM – 5:05 PM	Concurrent Session 12F: Theme: Social Services Subject: Indigenous Diversion Centre Summary: The BC First Nations Justice Council (BCFNJC) officially opened the Indigenous Diversion Centre (IDC) on Lheidli T'enneh territory (in Prince George, BC) on October 14, 2025. The IDC is a first of its kind in Canada, hosting an innovative pilot program that will divert Indigenous people from criminal justice system involvement and instead offer pathways to accountability, healing and support. With financial support from Public Safety Canada's Northern and Indigenous Crime Prevention Fund, the IDC offers First Nations, Métis and Inuit adults residing in Prince George diversion through two streams: pre-charge and post-release. These programs follow both clinical and Indigenous ceremonial modalities that focus on the root causes of offending by providing a caring, cultural environment where true healing can occur. Diversion is a key to reducing the overincarceration of Indigenous people as it provides a community-based alternative to the traditional justice system, helping Indigenous people in conflict with the law avoid the cycle of arrest, prosecution and incarceration. Strategy 1 of the BC First Nations Justice Strategy, developed in collaboration between the 204 First Nations of BC and the Province, aims to embed the presumption of diversion at every point of interaction an Indigenous person has with the justice system. Speaker: Miranda Seymour, Diversion Legal & Policy Advisor, BC First Nations Justice Council

Leonard Hiebert was elected as the Electoral Area 'D' Director in a by-election in 2014, and re-elected by acclamation in the 2018 and 2022 General Local Elections. In November 2022 and 2024, Leonard Hiebert was elected as Chair of the Regional Board.

Leonard has a vast range of experience, focusing on management, agriculture, and paramedic in the oil and gas industry. He has managed various hog farms in Canada and now focuses his spare time developing his own farm. Leonard has lived in Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Alberta as well as in Dawson Creek before settling in Tomslake, BC in 2008. Leonard and his wife Adina started a company in 2019, Good Sheppard Safety & Consulting.

Leonard's natural ability to take on a leadership role is what made him want to run for Director. As the Director for Electoral Area D, Leonard puts himself out into the community with the intention of rebuilding the relationship between the rural residents and the Peace River Regional District, sharing key points of communication and where possible, advocating on behalf of the resident.

Leonard and his wife, Adina, were married in July 1986. They have five children and eighteen grandchildren and one great-grand child. Leonard loves to camp and enjoys playing and coaching volleyball and baseball, and working on the farm with his livestock. He is always interested in learning new concepts for farming.

12. Concurrent Session 12E: Recreation and Sport in Northern BC (Thursday, May 21, 4:05 – 5:05 PM)

Sarah Saunders is the Executive Director of Engage Sport North, bringing over 20 years of experience advancing sport and recreation across Northern British Columbia. She specializes in developing practical, partnership-driven models that help municipalities deliver high-quality, sustainable programs—despite challenges related to staffing, capacity, and cost.

Sarah has worked closely with local governments, school districts, and provincial and national partners to implement accessible, proven programming that supports community wellness, youth engagement, and workforce retention. Her work helps communities maximize existing infrastructure, strengthen local sport organizations, and deliver community recreation services that create meaningful impact for residents.

Her experience spans the full sport continuum—from building physical literacy in children to improving access to athlete development opportunities in rural and remote communities. She brings a strong understanding of how sport and recreation contribute to broader municipal priorities, including health, economic development, and community vitality.

An engaging and solutions-focused presenter, Sarah offers practical, scalable approaches that can be applied in your community. She is passionate about working collaboratively to reduce barriers, increase participation, and strengthen community services across the North.

Recently, Miranda was a member of Mayor Yu's Standing Committee on Public Safety and is grateful for the opportunity to work out of the Indigenous Diversion Centre in Prince George – working to contribute to better public safety outcomes for the Indigenous people who call Prince George home and the City of Prince George overall. Miranda was born and partly raised in Prince George and obtained her undergraduate degree from UNBC.

Brittney Anderson, Minister of State for Local Governments and Rural Communities

14. Plenary Ministers Panel (Thursday, May 21, 9:15 – 9:45 AM)

Brittney Anderson was first elected as the MLA for Nelson-Creston (now called Kootenay Central) in 2020.

Brittney was appointed the Minister of State for Local Governments and Rural Communities in November 2024. She previously served as the Premier's Special Advisor on Youth, as Parliamentary Secretary for Tourism, and was a member of the Treasury Board.

She grew up in the Kootenays and lived around the world before settling back home. She started her studies at Selkirk College, has a bachelor's degree in international relations from UBC Okanagan and a Master of Science in Environmental Science and Policy from the Central European University in Budapest. She was elected to Nelson City Council in 2018 and served on the board of Regional District of Central Kootenay.

Professionally, Brittney has worked for regional government in environmental services, focused on resource recovery and water systems. Prior to being elected to City Council, she co-founded The Cannabis Conservancy which provides environmental certification in the emerging industry. She led project management for the development of Sun and Earth Certified. The regenerative certification builds upon the principles of organic agriculture, focusing on soil health, onsite nutrient fertility, empowering workers, and fostering community engagement.

She loves spending time with her family and friends in the mountains.

Trevor Halford, Interim Leader of the Conservative Caucus of BC

15. Official Opposition (Thursday, May 21, 9:45 – 10:00 AM)

Trevor Halford is the Interim Leader of the Conservative Caucus of British Columbia. and represents the riding of Surrey–White Rock as a Member of the Legislative Assembly since 2020.

As Leader of the Official Opposition, Trevor is holding government to account on the issues that matter most to British Columbians: economic growth, affordability, public safety, health care capacity, and democratic accountability. His leadership is focused on restoring confidence in the fundamentals of government: responsible fiscal management, reliable public services, and an economy that works for families, businesses, and communities.

Since being elected, Trevor Halford has held Critic portfolios spanning Transportation and Infrastructure, Affordability, Mental Health and Addictions, ICBC, TransLink, BC Transit, and Sport. In the Legislature, he is known for a disciplined, outcomes-focused approach and for challenging centralized decision-making, regulatory uncertainty, and policies that increase costs without delivering results.

Prior to elected office, Trevor built a career across senior political staff roles and executive-level government affairs in both government and the private sector. He previously served as Director of Government Affairs for British Columbia at TransCanada Pipelines (TC Energy), where he worked on major infrastructure, energy, and regulatory files. This experience provided him with a practical, systems-level understanding of how public policy, permitting, and regulatory decisions affect investment, job creation, and long-term economic competitiveness.

Trevor Halford brings to leadership experience across government, industry, and legislative oversight, along with a results-driven approach to public service. He believes leadership is measured not by ideology, but by what works, what doesn't, and whether government delivers meaningful results for the people it serves.

Anna Duff, Director of Communications, Planning and Engagement

17. NDIT (Thursday, May 21, 10:30 – 10:40 AM)

Anna is passionate about supporting people and place, committing professional and personal energy into making meaningful contributions to her community and northern B.C. Earlier in her career, Anna was a part of the Northern Development team for five years in various communications roles. She left to pursue leadership opportunities in the tourism industry and community economic development, focusing on business development and strengthening the business environment, before returning to Northern Development in 2025. She is Vice-President of the BC Library Trustees Association and is serving her seventh year on the Prince George Public Library Board, including three as Chair of the board.

Gord Klassen, President, Northern Medical Programs Trust / MIABC Board Representative

18. Northern Medical Programs Trust (Thursday, May 21, 10:40 – 10:50 AM)

19. MIABC (Thursday, May 21, 10:50 – 11:00 AM)

Gord Klassen is in his fourth term as City Councillor in Fort St. John and is currently in his 7th year as a Board member of the Union of BC Municipalities (UBCM).

Gord has represented the NCLGA on the Board of the Municipal Insurance Association of BC (MIABC) since 2016, where he has served on the Governance, Insurance, Finance, and Member Services Committees.

During his years as a City Councillor, as well as his time on the NCLGA board, including a year as NCLGA president, he has seen the unique challenges and opportunities that we face, as local governments, in our part of the province. And he brings that NCLGA perspective to the MIABC. While he works hard with the MIABC Board and staff for the benefit of all members, he does so through the lens of someone who comes from the North Central region.

As a local government leader, Gord is pleased that, by providing stable liability and property insurance, outreach programs, and expert advice, the MIABC gives members the dependable support they need to maintain the vibrancy and vitality of their communities.

As President of the Northern Medical Programs Trust, Gord will be also be providing an update on the work of the NMPT, highlighting its purpose of supporting medical education in northern BC and its goals of improving rural physician recruitment, strengthening regional training capacity, and ensuring long-term access to healthcare across the North.

Co-Hosts

Lara Beckett, Chair, Regional District of Fraser-Fort George

Lara Beckett is the Director of Electoral Area C (Nechako River-Chilako) for the Regional District of Fraser Fort-George.
